

SENIOR THESIS GUIDELINES

Approved by the Academic Policies Committee January 2019
For implementation beginning Fall 2019
Revised Spring 2022

DEFINITION AND PURPOSE OF THE SENIOR THESIS

The senior thesis is the product of scholarly or scientific research or artistic work of high academic quality. The character of the work leading to the senior thesis is expected to be more advanced than regular course work and should involve an unusually high level of initiative, independence, organization, and effort. It is used by many programs as one criterion for selecting students who are awarded honors in the major. The thesis is also part of the scholarly record of the college.

The senior thesis may take any one of a wide variety of forms suitable to the discipline(s) concerned. In all cases, the thesis should demonstrate excellence, originality, and dedicated effort by the student.

Senior thesis work carries eight credits and ordinarily involves two sequential courses of four semester credit hours each, directed by a faculty advisor selected by the student. The advisor and the thesis subject are ordinarily in the student's major field.

Eligibility requirements:

- Must have completed at least 87 credits before start of thesis.
- Have a minimum of 3.5 GPA in the major field(s) and 3.25 overall.

How to start the process

1st semester of your junior year:

- Meet with your advisor in your major prior to the second semester of the junior year, to investigate possible thesis ideas.

Over Winter term:

- Start researching possible topics and possible faculty to serve on your committee.
- Work with the library staff for more help with research resources.

2nd semester of your junior year:

Registration procedures:

- If approved by the Associate Provost's office, your registration form will be submitted directly to the Registrar's office.
- Student should discuss with thesis director if they need to meet weekly with a Thesis study group to advance the progress on their thesis.
- Double majors can only undertake one thesis.

Student Responsibilities:

- Pursue the goals described in the "Statement of Intent" independently, and as part of the Thesis study group (if one exists).
- Set up a schedule of meetings and time schedule to complete the work on time.
- Set up regular conferences with the Thesis director as well as with members of the thesis review board.

- Submit a tentative version of the thesis for all committee members with enough time for them to review & revise.
- Set up the final review time with all members of the committee (check Symposium dates).
- The Thesis, in its final form for evaluation, shall be submitted to the committee no later than the last day of classes of the semester!
- You are required to submit an electronic copy to the Associate Provost's office (associateprovost@goucher.edu).

- Examine the student's work at its conclusion.
- If necessary, be prepared to meet with the student in a final session after submission of the thesis for evaluation (i.e., if an oral exam or final oral report is appropriate).
- Recommend a grade for the work to the Thesis director.

You are not alone!

- Take advantage of the Goucher library. A librarian can be assigned to you!
- The Thesis study group can help you learn how to write your thesis and how to best use resources to enhance your final product.

FAQ:

What if I'm a double major?

When a student is double majoring and both programs require a thesis for honors, it is up to each program whether one thesis will be allowed to count toward both honors.

How do I register for my senior thesis?

Students do not register themselves for their senior thesis. You will be manually registered by the Associate Provost's office. Be sure to save room for these four credits!

SUBMISSION OF THE SENIOR THESIS

The senior thesis, in final form for evaluation, shall be submitted to the thesis review board no later than the last day of classes of the semester in which the work is to be completed. It shall be in a form that facilitates efficient evaluation by members of the board. The procedure for evaluating the thesis is expected to vary widely, depending on the nature of the final product described as "the thesis." Therefore, it is imperative that all parties agree as to the nature of the expected product, and that the student understands what is required for submission and evaluation. If the thesis is a manuscript, DVD, CD ROM, or photographic slides, for example, an adequate number of copies shall be provided for evaluation by the thesis review board.

Copies are required for each member of the thesis review board. One additional copy of the thesis must be submitted to the Associate Provost for Undergraduate Studies office with the attached Senior Thesis Completion Form with all the appropriate signatures. Theses that are awarded an A will be cataloged in the college archives. Manuscripts should follow the standards of the academic discipline to which they relate. A digital copy is to be submitted to the Associate Provost for Undergraduate Studies upon completion. DVDs, CD ROMs, or photographic slides should be placed in a stiff-cover binder designed for that purpose. All formats should include a title page with the information that the work is a senior thesis, the name of the department and the date of submission.

GRADES

A senior thesis is a year-long, two semesters, project and therefore will not receive a grade until the end of the academic year. There is a required mid-point evaluation where the Thesis director will determine that enough progress has been made and the student can proceed to the second semester. If, by the end of the first semester, a student chooses to terminate the project, or if it is apparent to the Thesis director that an acceptable senior thesis is unlikely, the senior thesis shall be converted to independent work and graded accordingly. The Thesis director will notify the Associate Provost's office of this decision.
