

6–8 p.m. 125th Anniversary Celebration Maryland Crab Feast Dorsey Center Courtyard

Happy Birthday, Goucher College! Enjoy a true Maryland feast of local crabs, fried chicken, pit beef, fresh corn, and other traditional fare. Tickets must be purchased in advance at Family Weekend registration. Students are not covered under their meal plan. Fee: $32 per person

8 p.m. The First Nine Months of Obama’s Presidency: A Panel Discussion Hyman Forum, Athenaeum

It’s been nine months since President Barack Obama was elected to the nation’s highest office. How is he doing? Continuing Goucher’s 125-year tradition of politically relevant discussion, a panel of Goucher faculty, staff, students, and parents, moderated by President Sanford Ungar, will talk about Obama’s presidency thus far and how his policies and ideas on health care, the war in Afghanistan, the economic recession, and foreign affairs are affecting our lives.

8 p.m. Pacamambo: A Play by Wajdi Mouwad Mildred Dunnock Theatre

Pacamambo is the story of a girl’s uncompromising love for somebody who cared for her. Accompanied by her talking dog, Le Gros, as well as the moon, Death, and a psychiatrist, Julie embarks on a quest for Pacamambo, a magical land of peace about which her grandmother used to tell stories. Tragic, comic, and fantastic, the play is intended both for young audiences and adults. The play will be presented in French, with English supertitles. Tickets are $9 general admission, $5 Goucher community members with ID. Reserve tickets by calling the Mildred Dunnock box office at 410-337-6512.

9 p.m. Harry Potter and the Half-Blood Prince Kelley Lecture Hall

If you haven’t seen this film yet, now is the time. In Harry Potter’s sixth year at Hogwarts, he finds a Potions book, which belonged to the very mysterious Half-Blood Prince. The Half-Blood Prince’s ancient scribbles written in the margins give Harry great advice on how to improve on his Potions work and also teach him a few helpful spells along the way. Harry will have to put these spells to good use in the wake of Lord Voldemort’s return. Free viewing of this film.

8 a.m.–2 p.m. Family Weekend Check-in Athenaeum Lobby

Please check in and pick up

- a complete schedule of events,
- your Family Weekend button (needed for entry to free events with registration), and
- tickets you purchased in advance for fee-based events (including Saturday lunch and Sunday jazz brunch).

MORNING PROGRAMS

8:30–10 a.m. Coffee with Key Staff and Faculty Hyman Forum, Athenaeum

Meet with President Sanford Ungar, Provost Marc Roy, Vice President and Dean of Students Gail Edmonds, several faculty members who serve as first-year advisers, and other Goucher staff and administrators. You will hear some brief introductory comments and an overview of what you can expect in this time of transition for your students. There will also be time to mix and mingle and approach staff with your individual questions. Coffee and pastries will be available.

9:45–11 a.m. Perspectives on Study Abroad and Internships Buchner Hall, Alumnae/i House

From the cloud forests of Costa Rica to Australia’s sunshine coast, from the Maryland State Arts Council to Referentin für Fundrasing in Germany, Goucher students participate in amazing out-of-classroom experiences. Hear students talk about their global experiences, the impact they’ve had on academic preparation and career goals, and ways to make the most of the study abroad and internship experiences.

10 a.m.-noon Shabbat Morning Services Weinberg Jewish Student Center, Stimson Hall

Goucher Hillel hosts morning services (egalitarian) for Shabbat and Shemini Atzeret, as well as Yizkor (memorial service). Please call 410-337 to let Hillel know you plan on attending.

11 a.m.–noon 125th Anniversary Celebration of Goucher Alumnae/i Success Hyman Forum, Athenaeum

For 125 years, Goucher grads have been making a difference in the world. Join President Ungar for a discussion with some of our successful, seasoned alumnae/i to learn about their career paths and hear their reflections on the changes they’ve seen at Goucher over the years.

11:30 a.m.–noon The Little Engine that Could Heubeck Lounge

Goucher’s Open Circle Theatre Company performs this short play about the Little Blue Engine who struggles to get over a mountain and, by telling himself “I think I can,” finally makes his dream come true.

AFTERNOON ACTIVITIES

Noon–2 p.m. Community Lunch Celebrating Goucher’s 125th Anniversary Courtyard Between Athenaeum and Alumnae/i House (Rain location: Athenaeum)

Happy Birthday, Goucher College! Enjoy lunch; meet other students and parents from your student’s residence hall, as well as alumnae/i who lived there once; and celebrate Goucher’s rich history and talent. Tickets must be purchased in advance at Family Weekend registration; Students on the meal plan will not be charged. Fee: $10 per person

1–4 p.m. Registration for the Renie Amoss Race (5K run/1.5-mile walk) Sports & Recreation Center

Register for this traditional, annual Goucher event. Visit the Family Weekend webpage for a link to the Renie Amoss Race registration website: <http://parents.ua.edu/familyweekend/>. There is a fee for this event.

1:45–2:15 p.m. Dedication of the Turf Field Beldon Field

Our new 105,000-square-foot lighted turf field is finally here! This state-of-the-art-field has a monofilament infill design that maximizes traction and safety and can be used by all of the college’s field sport teams and in any kind of weather. The dedication ceremony will take place at halftime of the women’s game against Landmark Conference opponent Susquehanna University.

2- 3 p.m. Quirky Tour of Goucher Campus Meet at Pearlstone Clock

This is the Goucher you don’t know about. Join Professor Michael Curry on a walking tour highlighting peculiar Goucher lore. Learn where notable Goucher administrators are buried on campus, visit the bomb-shelter underneath the Dorsey Center, and discover many little-known fun facts about Goucher’s history.

2:30-3 p.m. The Little Engine that Could Heubeck Lounge

Goucher's Open Circle Theatre Company performs this short play about the Little Blue Engine who struggles to get over a mountain and, by telling himself "I think I can," finally makes his dream come true.

3-4 p.m. Free Pilates Mat Class Pilates Center, Todd Dance Studio

Looking for a fun new way to exercise? The Pilates Method combines the best qualities of Eastern and Western exercise disciplines for an almost ideal workout system, consisting of over 500 specifically designed, low impact exercises to engage body and mind. Please wear comfortable clothing and socks. Mats are provided. Come early, as space is limited. Donations will be accepted for the Breast Cancer Research Foundation as part of the national Pilates for Pink fundraiser.

3-5 p.m. Bus Tour of Goucher Historical Sites Dorsey Center Courtyard

Goucher College has a long and illustrious history that starts in beautiful downtown Baltimore. Led by Marilyn Warshawsky '68, the tour will include a stop with refreshments at the Lovely Lane Methodist Church, near the original Goucher campus in the Charles Village area of Baltimore. Tickets must be purchased in advance at Family Weekend registration. Fee: $10 per person
