

Putting It All Together

Well done! You've begun to explore who you are by looking at your personality, values, skills, interests and traits—all important pieces of career exploration and decision-making. Pull your self exploration together here to begin to connect the dots between who you are and the academic, career, and life experiences you might pursue. Look for reoccurring themes and what stands out to you

My 16Personalities Type	My Values	My Skills	My Interests
Keywords & descriptions that fit me well...	What I want most in a career/life...	What I do best...	What I am interested in...

Own it! Now, take the next step in exploring the possibilities by:

1. Paying attention to clues—what do you continue to notice after having explored who you are?
2. Connect with others—advisors, mentors, staff and faculty, alums and/or the CEO to process and gather feedback and insights about your options
3. Identify and commit to next step in exploring, identifying and reaching your academic and career goals—remember, one small step at a time

Commit & Take Action! Three small steps that I will take to continue exploring are...

1	Action Step: Date to complete:
2	Action Step: Date to Complete:
3	Action Step: Date to Complete: