FRIDAY, OCTOBER 7

1–6 p.m.

Family Weekend Check-In

Dorsey College Center,
Admissions Office

1:30–2:30 p.m.

Mock Classes

Experience one of three classes critical to the Goucher Commons Curriculum, including Complex Problem Exploration and First-Year Seminar courses.

- Solar Energy and Fuel Cells: A Glimpse Inside the First-Year Seminar (Ruquia Ahmed-Schofield)
Location: Hoffberger Science 102
- One Stroke of a Nail File: Visualizing Deep Time (Mary Marchand)
Location: Ungar Athenaeum, Batza Room
- The 2022 Campaign in 30 Seconds: An Analysis of Campaign Ads and What They Tell Us (Nina Kasniunas)
Location: Julia Rogers Classroom G50

1:30–3:30 p.m.

Tour the Library & Special Collections

Ungar Athenaeum, fourth floor
(directly across from the main elevator)

Want to see where your student spends most of their time? Tour the Library and Learning Commons, Special Collections & Archives, and the Makerspace. Tours will be available at 1:30 p.m. and 2:30 p.m.

2–3 p.m.

Academic Center for Excellence Open House

Julia Rogers, Academic Center for Excellence, second floor

Please stop by the open house to learn about the holistic academic support provided at Goucher for all undergraduate students through the Academic Center for Excellence, or ACE.

2:30–3:30 p.m.

First-Year Reading Book Discussion: The Immortal Life of Henrietta Lacks

Ungar Athenaeum,
Reader's Lounge 441

This year our incoming first-year students read the book The Immortal Life of Henrietta Lacks, by Rebecca Skloot. The book is available as an e-book through the Goucher Library. This book features Henrietta Lacks, an African American woman whose cervical cancer cells were harvested and sold without her consent and knowledge and became the first immortal human cell line. You are invited to read the book and join Jamie Mullaney, associate provost & professor of sociology, and William Harder, director of the Center for the Advancement of Scholarship & Teaching, for a discussion about the ethical issues presented.

3–4 p.m.

Meet and Greet at the Center for Race, Equity, and Identity

Ungar Athenaeum 125

Come meet the center staff, interns, and students to learn about the support and affirmation we provide for all members of the Goucher community.

5–5:45 p.m.

Shabbat Welcome and Services

Heubeck Hall, Multipurpose Room

Welcome Shabbat together with a service led by Rabbi Josh Snyder.

6–7:30 p.m.

Shabbat Family Dinner

Heubeck Hall, Multipurpose Room

Cost is $23. Tickets must be purchased in advance. Current students may use their meal plan for themselves but not guests. Capacity is limited to 80 guests.

6–8 p.m.

Family and Friends Picnic

We Care is an exhibition of prints by Sister Corita Kent, on loan from Saint Mary's Seminary of Roland Park, that is thematically linked to an exhibition in Special Collections and Archives.

1:30–2:30 p.m.

Campus Safety Briefing: Collaborative Safety

Ungar Athenaeum,
Pinkard Room 426

Join Goucher's director of campus safety, Tiffany Justice, as she provides an overview of services offered by Campus Safety and shares how to use Goucher's innovative safety tool, the "Campus Shield" app.

2–3 p.m.

"Reflecting on Resilience: What Makes Us Bounce Back?"

Heubeck Hall, Multipurpose Room

In this workshop with the associate director of student support & outreach, Sean Rice, the associate vice president for student success, Emily Perl, and the director of student counseling, Lauren Greenberg, discuss how you and the college can support your student in developing resilience and the skills needed to "bounce back."

2–3:30 p.m.

Legacy Reception

Alumnae/i House, Buchner Hall

Is your Goucher student related to a Goucher alumna or alumnus? Celebrate this special connection and join fellow Goucher legacy families for refreshments and camaraderie! Open to legacy alumnae/i, students, and their parents. For more information, please contact Lynn Satterfield '83, director of alumnae/i affairs, at lynn.satterfield@goucher.edu or 410-337-6077.

3:30–4:30 p.m.

Sacred Pause: Interfaith Labyrinth Walk

EXHIBITIONS

SILBER GALLERY

WE CARE: WORKS BY CORITA KENT

Ungar Athenaeum
Friday, Saturday & Sunday
11 a.m. – 4 p.m.

Corita Kent was an artist, an educator, and an activist for social justice and the anti-war movement. A member of the religious order of Mary of the Immaculate Heart, Corita used her faith, her distinct design sensibility, and aesthetic influences from packaging to pop art to create her unique prints that inspire attention to and action against the critical issues of her time. The selection of boldly colored text-based serigraphs are on loan from Saint Mary's Seminary of Roland Park. We Care is presented along with the Special Collections & Archives' exhibition of the same title, which documents the Goucher community's participation in activism and protests throughout the college's history.

ROSENBERG GALLERY

J M GIORDANO: NIGHT WORK

Dorsey College Center
Friday, Saturday &
Sunday
10 a.m. – 5 p.m.

J M Giordano: Night Work is a selection of photographs from the decades-long photography and photojournalism career of the artist. The black-and-white images depict nightlife in Baltimore, featuring moments from music venues, nightclubs, bars, casinos, street scenes, and portraiture, documenting these spaces prior to the shutdown that the pandemic precipitated. A uniquely intimate view of Baltimore culture, these images are also among those feature in J.M. Giordano's first book, We Used To Live At Night, published by Culture Crush in 2021.
