GOUCHER | college
Workshop Descriptions & Zoom Information

Day 1: Tuesday, January 12, 2021

1. Collab Lab

Come share your best teaching strategies of 2020 in the collab smack down. As you're comin' in hot in the New Year, join Assistant Director of Digital Learning, Brandon Myers, at the collab lab to share and take ideas from your Goucher family.

Meeting ID: 948 7565 4049

2. Introduction to Using Zoom as an Instructor

This session will introduce instructors to scheduling and hosting online meetings using Zoom. Participants will get an overview of how to use the Zoom web interface, desktop software, and the Zoom Canvas tool. A walk-through of important hosting options will also be covered including muting/unmuting yourself and others, turning on/off your webcam, screen sharing, recording options, and more.

Passcode: 218433

3. Using Digital Tools for Formative Assessments

Do you feel like you're talking to a rainbow of circles? Do you know when your students are ready to move on? Would you like to learn a few strategies to be sure your students are learning the content during instruction? If you said yes to any of these questions (or if you're at all curious) then this PD is for you!

Day 2: Wednesday January 13, 2021

1. Canvas's Syllabus Tool: Help Your Students Find What They are Looking for

Goucher has recently turned on the Syllabus Tool in Canvas. This session will demonstrate how to effectively use the tool as well as the new Goucher Undergrad Canvas Template which can automatically load up-to-date information and links about student resources, Goucher policies, and Zoom into your Canvas course.

Meeting ID: 994 7346 2974

Day 3: Thursday, January 14, 2021

1. Fast Track UDL: Quick Tips to Create a More Universal Learning Experience

Practical tips for quickly and easily incorporating UDL into teaching and learning practices and thinking. Participants will brainstorm UDL ideas for example teaching and learning activities and think about ways to incorporate these practices into their own work. We will focus on the access level of the three UDL principles to leave participants with “implement tomorrow” ideas.

Day 4: Friday, January 15, 2021

1. Equitable Access: Exploring Free and Low-Cost Course Materials

Rising textbook costs can be a barrier to Goucher's goal of providing an accessible, transformational education to all of our students. Learn where to find high-quality textbook alternatives including both library-licensed materials and Open Educational Resources (OER) to support student success.

2. Digital Learning Design Bar

The Digital Learning Design Bar is a virtual instructional technology support station—concierge-style—to help you stay relevant and current in online teaching pedagogies. Even if you're juggling a heavy load that day, we hope you'll take a seat at the Design Bar for a spell and allow the designers to make things easier for you.

Meeting ID: 912 9613 7909

3. Support Services Buffet

This session offers participants a buffet of student support services. Come and hear the latest about how ACE Academic Coaches, the Library, the Writing Center, and the QR Center can support your students. After hearing from each office, participants will be given the opportunity to meet with specific offices in breakout rooms.
