I. PURPOSE
The purpose of the Record Management Policy is to promote proper management, retention, preservation, and disposal of records of college operations, in order to ensure efficient current and future operations, preserve a historical record, comply with legal obligations, and eliminate outdated and unnecessary records. The policy also provides guidance to individual departments regarding their legal obligations with respect to record retention and disposal.

II. APPLICATION
This policy applies to all official records generated in the course of college operations. “Official record” means any tangible thing containing recorded information that is created, received, used, recorded, or filed in the course of college educational and/or business operations, regardless of format, except for the following categories of documents.

- Records of immediate or transitory value only, such as routing slips, routine letters or memoranda of transmittal, telephone messages, notices, or memoranda that give only logistical information such as a change of location for a meeting and “for your information” notes
- Faculty research records and notes
- Duplicate materials and blank forms
- Personal or private documents (including e-mail) neither created nor received in connection with college operations
- Magazines and newspapers not published by Goucher
- Published reports and other documents produced by entities other than Goucher
- Notes, drafts, or working papers once a project is completed, unless they provide more complete information than the final report

Some materials that do not constitute official college records could nevertheless have historical value to the college and provide important information to retain for the college’s institutional memory. For example, personal faculty papers are not official records, but are actively collected in the archives. Please see the Guide to Transferring Materials to the Archives, attached as Appendix A. Any questions about preserving materials for historical value should be directed to the college archivist. Questions about whether certain material constitutes an official record subject to the retention guidelines should be directed to the General Counsel.

III. ADMINISTRATION

A. Responsibilities of General Counsel

The Office of General Counsel shall be responsible for reviewing and updating this policy on a regular basis to conform to legal standards, and for responding to questions about application of this policy in particular circumstances.

B. Responsibilities of College Archivist

The Goucher College archives serves as a repository for non-current official records and other records of the college that have enduring value. The archives preserves and makes accessible these records for legal, administrative, and research needs. Some records may be closed for 25 years or longer, depending on the nature of the records, and may only be used by permission. Once official records have met their retention schedule in a department on campus, they will either be disposed of or transferred to the archives for permanent retention. Some permanent records may be held at locations other than the archives, such as in the department in which they were created. The archivist will be responsible for managing the selection and transfer of records to the archives as well as access to and preservation of the records. The Guide to Transferring Materials to the College Archives, attached as Appendix A, provides helpful information for college departments on selecting and transferring records to the archives.

C. Responsibilities of Department Heads.

Each department head, or head’s designee, holds the following responsibilities under this policy:

• Develop and implement the department’s record management practices to conform to this policy;
• Educate staff within the department to understand and implement this policy;
• Establish the appropriate level of confidentiality and security for specific types of records and ensure that the department maintains that level;
• Ensure the transfer to the archives of any records of historic value and/or documents that are to be maintained permanently;
• Ensure the destruction of inactive records that have no archival value upon passage of the applicable retention period.
IV. OWNERSHIP OF RECORDS

With the exception of records owned by faculty members, employees, or students, official college records are, pursuant to the college’s Intellectual Property Policy, the property of the college and not of the officers, faculty members, or employees who create them or to whom they are entrusted. All members of the community are responsible for maintaining the integrity and security of such records.

V. DISPOSITION OF RECORDS

Certain official records must be retained for a specified time period as dictated in this policy. Once official records have met their retention schedule, they should be disposed of, unless they are of value to the archives. If official records are retained beyond their retention schedule, college resources may be unnecessarily used in managing and storing them. In addition, such records may be subject to disclosure (for example, pursuant to the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act of 1974 (FERPA), or in litigation pursuant to a discovery request).

Departments should review the Guide to Transferring Materials to the College Archives and/or confer with the archivist prior to disposition of any records that may have enduring value to the college. Authorization to dispose of official records is granted through the record retention schedule in this policy, which describes the most common types of records at Goucher and how long they must be maintained. Retention schedules for less common types of records or those that are unique to particular departments will be established in consultation with individual departments. State or federal law may determine the period that certain records must be kept.

Permanent Records. Permanent records are records that have historical, administrative, or research value to the college and will be kept indefinitely. The college archivist assists in the identification and classification of permanent records, and ensures that they are transferred to the archives once they become inactive. Examples of permanent records include meeting minutes, architectural drawings, organization charts, real estate records, endowment agreements, student theses, selected faculty papers, college policies, and photographs of events and buildings.

Duplicate Copies. Most records will eventually have multiple copies in several offices and departments at the college. There is only one “official copy” of any record, and the individual in the office designated by the department chair or director to hold the “official copy” is the official custodian and is responsible for the record’s retention and possible classification as an archival record. Copies may be kept as long as they are useful. For example, the Provost’s Office is the “official custodian” of academic search files. All other copies of materials related to a search may be destroyed when no longer needed. The Provost’s Office is responsible for retaining the record for the period required by law, or longer if appropriate, and for transferring the record to the Archives, if appropriate. Whenever an office or person is designated as the official custodian of a document (pursuant to the schedule below) all other offices should consult with the official custodian before destroying copies of records that the official custodian is maintaining.

Destruction Methods. Destruction includes:

- Recycling is generally appropriate for all non-confidential paper documents, including public documents of other organizations, magazines, annual reports, newsletters, announcements, and drafts of policies or other memos which are not confidential.

- Shredding, using a cross-cut or strip shredder, should be used for all documents that should not be read by others after they are no longer needed. This is essential for any document containing personal information, information that is protected student information under FERPA, health-related information, or financial information.

Suspension of Record Destruction. In the event of a governmental audit, investigation, or pending litigation, record disposal may be suspended at the direction of the General Counsel. For this purpose, the General Counsel should be informed of any situation that might give rise to legal action as soon as the situation becomes apparent.

Document Destruction Record. A Document Destruction Record (DDR), in a form attached as Attachment B, must be completed whenever official records are destroyed pursuant to this policy. The DDR may include categories of documents, rather than individual documents. DDRs shall be maintained in the office where the destroyed records were generated.

VI. ELECTRONIC RECORDS.

Many official records are created and maintained in an electronic format. These include documents on a computer hard drive, email and its attachments, and documents that have been scanned and reside on CDs or on other removable storage media. File maintenance of these records requires coordination among the places where they are stored – hard-drives on desk tops, laptops, on shared drives (network systems), and on removable storage media.

An electronic file that has permanent value to the college should be retained in the appropriate Magellan folder on the college’s server, rather than on a personal desktop computer, which is not designed for the permanent retention of records. All data on the college’s server is backed-up regularly in order to ensure business continuation in the event of a disaster or crisis. Therefore, individual offices only need to retain their copies of electronic records if they are useful for day-to-day business. One notable exception involves special compilations of data that offices or departments may create using data from Power Campus. Because of the way data is preserved or changed over time, it may not always be possible to re-create a compilation of data in the future. Any report created from special compilations, as opposed to merely printing data from the system, should be retained by the office or department creating it as the official copy.

Some offices, academic departments, or units have created electronic data systems by purchasing software to help manage a specific database for research or other purposes. If it is determined that the records created by that database should be maintained for a specific period or should be permanently retained, the maintenance of the software license and the availability of it can be very important. Before purchasing or using specialized software for these purposes, the official custodian should discuss with Information Technology the purchase and any agreement needed in order to back up the data system.

All college faculty and staff entrusted with electronic data must adhere to these practices:

- Appropriately secure data and keep it inaccessible to non-approved users when not in use;
- Use, retain, and dispose of data consistent with this policy for paper copies of records;
- Develop policies for the appropriate and frequent back-up of data systems and their storage in locations that will keep them available in the event of a disaster affecting the original data system;
- Dispose of electronic documents containing private or confidential data properly, which means erasing hard drives and disks so that the data are not retrievable.
- Consultation with Information Technology Services staff on how to properly erase hard drives is vital before computers are transferred to other users or discarded;
- Treat electronic mail like any other electronic record. Mail that has information that should be retained according to a retention schedule should either be printed and filed as would any other paper record or saved to an archived e-mail file (a Magellan departmental file).

VII. PROTECTION OF VITAL RECORDS

One part of the college’s records management program is the identification and protection of vital records. A record is vital when:

1. The re-establishment of an authentic replacement of a lost or unavailable record would be impossible or prohibitively difficult; and
2. Permanent loss of the record would abridge, jeopardize, or otherwise have a major negative impact on a significant right of an individual, a significant right or asset of the college, or the performance of an essential function of the college.

Guidelines for the protection of vital records can be found in Appendix C to this policy.
VIII. RETENTION PERIODS

The Retention Schedule below lists the most common types of records at the college with a required retention period. Almost every department or office in the college will have records that are not on the retention schedule but should be retained. Questions about such documents should be addressed to the General Counsel, and types of documents will be added to the schedule as appropriate.

The stated retention periods are a minimum time for which records should be retained. Generally, records should be destroyed at the end of these periods or longer, if required by federal, state or local law. In some cases, records may be transferred to the archives at the end of the retention period, as indicated in Appendix A.

WEBSITE

Because web sites have replaced many publications, they are a significant archival record of the college and its operation. Web masters and others creating web page content should capture copies of their web site’s content as e-files on CD or DVD and send them to College Archives for permanent retention. The college currently lacks space to retain archived copies on its servers and web sites are not routinely backed-up. If a Web site is changed without preserving the original content, it cannot be retrieved from the college servers.

DEPARTMENT, and COMMITTEE FILES (including academic departments, divisions, task-forces, and other college working groups)

Departmental and committee files are critical for documenting the history of the college and should be kept, managed, and archived in a manner consistent with the guidelines provided in this policy. Each department and committee should establish an ongoing process of records management for the department/program to ensure that personnel transitions do not interrupt ongoing records management. If a current committee chair or department head maintains records in his or her own office or on his or her own computer exclusively, that individual is responsible for transferring all electronic and paper records to the departmental assistant or next committee chair when his or her term ends, so that record-keeping and management is not interrupted. In the case of confidential materials in the possession of the chair or department head, those should be marked as such (and placed in a sealed envelope, if appropriate) and maintained within the department/committee files. Personnel records in the possession of the department (including records relating to student employees) should be forwarded to the Department of Human Resources when the employee is no longer employed by the college. The departmental assistant(s) are a key link in long term maintenance of departmental records. The assistants should be entrusted with knowledge of all departmental records and assist in their maintenance, even if the records are physically kept in the department chair or head’s office.

These records may be transferred to the archives once they are inactive and/or have met their retention schedule. Please see the Guide to Transferring Records to the College Archives for additional information.

*Certain contracts may need to be retained longer, such as construction agreements, warranty agreements and agreements relating to major assets and buildings. Some of these are noted in other sections of this policy. Questions should be referred to legal counsel.

Note: The archives actively collects the personal papers of faculty as a separate group from the college’s records. Faculty should work with the archivist if they are considering leaving papers to the college.
Guide to Transferring Materials to the College Archives

The Goucher College Archives is the college’s official repository for all historically valuable non-current records generated and received by college offices and employees during the course of official college business. Permanently valuable historical records document the growth and development of the college, including its physical plant and grounds, curriculum and research, relationship with the local community, and the activities of its student body, faculty, and alumnae/i. Current or active records are documents that must be consulted frequently or accessed immediately for legal, operational, or administrative policy purposes. Some of these will eventually come to the archives; others will be destroyed.

Please see the Goucher College Records Management Policy that determines the college’s official records retention schedule. Once records have met their retention schedule, they will either be disposed of or transferred to the archives for permanent retention. Some records may be closed for 25 years or longer, depending on the nature or the records and may only be used by permission.

I. SELECTING MATERIAL – for College Archives, official records
The archivist is always available to work with faculty and staff to determine what materials to transfer.

Types of records to transfer to the archives:
In general, significant records created in the conduct of college business are appropriate for transfer to the archives. Also, records that chronicle a department’s activities are part of the institutional memory and would be helpful to future students and historians. Records that are valuable to understanding the organizational culture, differing points of view, and how decisions were made should also be preserved. Many of these records will be closed for 25 years and only accessible with special permission. Specific records appropriate for the archives include:

- Constitutions and by-laws, minutes and proceedings, transcripts, and lists of officers of the varied official college offices and governing bodies
- Select office files, including incoming and outgoing official correspondence and memoranda and subject files related to projects, activities, functions, and special events
- Annual budgets
- Historical files related to policy and decision-making, committee and task force reports, and surveys
- Manuscripts, lectures, speeches
• Publications: two copies of all newsletters, brochures, journals, handbooks, monographs, programs, posters and announcements issued by the college or its departments. The college archives should be on all official mailing lists

II. PERSONAL FACULTY PAPERS—For Special Collections, non-official records
The college collects the papers of faculty for the Special Collections. These are materials not produced while conducting official college business. The line between institutional and personal records may be difficult to determine, so please contact the archivist with questions.

The Special Collections consist of non-official materials such as rare books, personal papers, manuscript collections, objects, artifacts, institutional/organizational records, and other materials that reflect the history of the college, curriculum, programs, current collection strengths, and the history of Baltimore and Maryland.

Material of particular interest for Special Collections:
• Biographical material, including curriculum vitae, resumes, published and unpublished biographical sketches, and memoirs, reminiscences, and wills
• Correspondence: outgoing and incoming letters relating to all facets of one’s career, including correspondence with colleagues, publishers, organizations; personal letters to and from friends, relatives, and business associates
• Business or organizational records: agendas, minutes, reports, correspondence, annual reports, charters, articles of incorporation, constitutions, by-laws, handbooks, newsletters or other publications, organizational charts, brochures, and press releases
• Published articles and monographs; drafts and manuscripts of articles, papers, books, and speeches, critical works
• Audiovisuals, including photographs, films, and sound and video recordings
• Photographs: prints, negatives, slides
• Typescripts, drafts, and galleys of publications, when they reflect the creative process
• Books, research papers, articles, and reprints written by others unless of direct significance
• Research notes and data, if a summary is not available
• Memorabilia, scrapbooks, diaries, notebooks, journals
• Maps, printed items
• Research files: outlines, research designs, raw data, notes, analyses, and reports of findings

• Artifacts and memorabilia unless of particular significance to the college.

III. PREPARING MATERIAL
The following measures are helpful prior to transferring materials. The archivist is available to assist in this process.

Pack records in boxes.
• Do not overfill boxes. Use records storage boxes if possible (approx 15 ½” x 12” x 10 ½”).

Put documents in folders before packing into boxes. Please do not put loose papers in boxes.
• Label folders if possible with subjects and dates.
• Remove hanging holders
• If materials are in binders, keep in binders and place in box.

Box similar materials together--do not mix different kinds of files.
• Separate boxes for work done in separate areas/projects. For example, keep records related to work on a faculty committee separate from papers related to work on a city commission.
• Separate boxes for different series or types of material. For example, keep public relations materials separate from general correspondence.
• Keep physical types separate. For example, do not mix videotapes, paper press releases and photographs all together.
Keep materials in original order
• When removing items from file drawers, or from shelves, place in box in order as found. Keeping materials in the order which they were used is helpful for researchers.

If unorganized, put in logical order.
• If the files should be organized alphabetically, chronologically, etc., and you find that they are not when you start to pack them, take some time to organize them properly.

Label boxes.
• Include Name/Author, Type of files (e.g. correspondence), Subject (e.g. bridge construction),
• Date range, and Box number. Also, note if the file contains fragile materials. For example:
  John George
  Correspondence, Stadium funding bill
  1990s – 2002
  Box 4

Create an inventory (box and folder list) for the boxes.
• List each box, and the titles of the folders in the box.
• Place the folder list for each box into that box where it can be easily found.
• Send copies of list(s) to the archivist.
